Speech of Senator Wilson

NO PAYMENT FOR LOSS OF SLAVES

WASHINGTON, February 7.—Mr. Wilson called up his resolution to amend the Constitution of the United States so as to provide that "no payment shall ever be made by the United States, or any State, for or on account of the emancipation of slave or slaves, or for or on account of any debt contracted or incurred in aid of the rebellion against the National Government." In support of his amendment Mr. Wilson said

Mr. President: When the rebel chiefs raised the banners of revolution, four and a half millions of men held as beasts of burden by Constitutions and laws, usages and customs, in fifteen States were valued by their possessors at more than two thousand millions of dollars. These thousands of millions of capital invested in human sinews, hedged about and guarded by constitutional provisions, legislative enactments, judicial decisions, the quick instincts of personal interest, the jealousy of class and the pride of consummated power, then controlled institutions and States, and directed public councils. In the pride of assured possession the holders of these millions of beings, made in the image of the common Father of all the races and kindred of men, and of these vast material interests then placed all upon the hazard of civil war. That civil war closed in utter defeat and overwhelming disaster to those dominating possessors of human chattels. These four and a half millions of slaves are things no longer, but men evermore. This capital invested in the bodies of our fellow men was wrested from the gripe of its possessors by the hand of the war invoked to make slavery and the mighty interests pertaining to it a perpetual inheritance. When the rebel slavemasters saw their vaunted Confederacy crumbling and falling around them they, true to human nature, indulged in the delusive hope that some gradual system of emancipation would be inaugurated, or that some compensation for their lost millions would be made by the Government they had striven to destroy. While they were indulging in these illusions the President required them to amend their State Constitutions, and to adopt the amendment to the Constitution of the United States for the utter extinction of slavery. Coming to the realization of their defeat, disaster and humiliation, they yielded a reluctant consent to these requirements of the President of the United States. Though interest dictated a prudent reserve, utterances in Georgia, Louisiana and other States gave warning to the nation that the rebel slavemasters' hope for compensation for slaves emancipated by national authority. Georgia adopts the constitutional amendment with the distinct avowal that it will not preclude her from seeking compensation for her emancipated bondsmen, and political conventions in Louisiana emphatically declare their purpose to seek such compensation. Manifestations in many forms in other sections of the South give unmistakable indications that they are biding their time, when within these chambers they will clamor for compensation for slaves wrenched from their possession by Federal power.

Prudential considerations now impose silence upon them; but the "natural leaders" of the South know full well that, when these vacant chairs are again filled by the representatives of reorganized rebel States, the demand for compensation for slaves emancipated by our decrees will fire the Southern heart, and rally and unite the Southern people, as the echoes of the opening cannon on Sumter fired, rallied and united them in the spring of 1861. Who is there among us that does not believe that these reconstructed but unrepentant rebels will seek the first, the last and every occasion to wring from the nation some compensation for the millions emancipated by the fiat of the National Government? That statesman is indeed little read in the school of human nature who believes the people of the rebel States will not seek by all the means at their command to extort from the Federal Government some consideration for the lost millions invested in 4,000,000 men, made free without their consent and against their will by authority of the nation. To these 4,000,000 lost to them by enforced emancipation is to be added the Confederate debt, amounting to thousands of millions more. The honorable Senator from Kentucky (Mr. Guthrie) told us the other day that the South had lost by the rebellion ten thousand millions of dollars. Impoverished by these immense losses, surrounded by the wastes of war, by the maimed soldiers of the rebel armies, and the widows and orphan children of men fallen in battle, the rebel leaders cannot, will not, dare not cease to demand some compensation, by every means within their power, or to war upon the national debt, which takes from the people of the rebellious States a portion of what the losses and waste of a four years' war left to them. He who expects other action than this from the leaders of Southern opinion is but a poor student of human nature. To maintain the unity of the republic and preserve the menaced life of the nation, the Government of the United States summoned more than two millions of men to the field, organized vast armies, created naval squadrons for the blockading of Southern ports, and carried on for more than four years a war of gigantic proportions. To support these vast armies, to create these great naval squadrons that hovered along the Southern coast, from the Potomac to the Rio Grande, the Government was compelled to call upon the loyal people for nearly three thousand millions of dollars. That people, animated with the same lofty and self-sacrificing patriotism that carried their sons to battlefields, at this call of their country loaned these millions to feed, to clothe, to arm, to pay the soldiers of the republic, and to pension the widows and orphaned children of heroes fallen in battle for the existence of the republic.

With the same holy zeal that filled the ranks of our war-wasted battalions, that contributed seventy five millions in charities to the sick and wounded defenders of their country, the loyal people—bankers, merchants, farmers, mechanics, laborers, all conditions of men, and women, too—in the dark and trying days of the rebellion, when men of little faith doubted the result of the struggle for national existence, and rebel sympathizers and rebel apologists prophesied national disaster and national bankruptcy, trusted their interests and fortunes to the faith of their endangered country. These millions of the loyal people, loaned upon the plighted faith of the periled nation, created the armies and navies that lined the coasts and swept the field of rebellion till the slave masters' confederacy crumbled into dishonorable fragments. The national debt, created by the Government for the preservation of the national life, is as sacred as the blood of our heroes poured out on battle fields. This national debt is the price of national existence. Faith, honor, interest, all alike demand that it shall be guarded as we guard and cherish the sacred heroes and the widows and orphans of the nation's dead. This vast national debt, larger, if measured by interest—by the annual cost of carrying it—than the debt of England, will bear not lightly upon the resources of the nation. To fund it at reasonable rates, to provide the means promptly to meet the interest upon it, and to extinguish it at no distant period, to make the burdens bear as equally and lightly as possible upon all interests, will tax the resources of statesmanship and the patience, endurance and patriotism of the people for years to come. Not only are the holders of these national securities concerned, in whatever affects the public credit, but all conditions of men and all the pursuits of life are also concerned in whatever affects it. The national debt has been made the basis of our banking system and currency. Money lenders and money borrowers, merchants, manufacturers, business men of all occupations, depositors in saving institutions and laborers who carry home to wives and children the fruits of daily toil, all now have a direct, a personal interest in maintaining unimpaired the faith of the nation and the credit of the securities. The holders of the public securities, the people, concerned in all their vital interests in maintaining the credit of the nation in funding the public debt at low rates of interest, and providing for its ultimate extinguishment, and in the return at an early day to specie payments now demand, that the national securities in which are blended all public and private interests shall not be put at hazard by experimental legislation. National credit like individual credit, is ever sensitive. It feels the approach of danger, be it ever so stealthy in its advances. The holders of the public securities cannot but note multitudinous indications of coming danger. With the clear vision of self interest, they see, feel, realize that the guardianship of these thousands of millions of dollars incurred to put down the rebellion, cannot be safely intrusted to the defeated rebels. The holders of the public securities the possessors of the currency founded upon the public faith, the scarred soldiers of the republic, and the heirs of fallen heroes, are hardly ready to trust their inheritance, be that inheritance ever so small, to the men who have lost two thousand millions invested in the sinews of a race emancipated by the national authority, and the holders of thousands of millions of Confederate bonds and obligations. They know that these baffled and ruined men, smarting under defeat, poverty and wounded pride, will be ready ever to make combinations with those who in the dark and troubled night of rebellion predicted the sinking down or the repudiation of the national debt, to secure payment for rebel debts and emancipated slaves, or to scale down or repudiate the debt incurred for their overthrow. The holders of your securities, the people whose vital interests require that these securities shall be guarded against possible danger, imperatively demand that irreversible guarantees shall be made that the nation will never assume rebel debts nor pay for slaves emancipated by the needs or will of the endangered country. The loyal people of the United States who risked their private interests in support of the national authority have a right to demand—it is their highest duty to demand that the Government shall require, as a condition precedent to the admission of rebel States, that the fundamental law shall be so amended as to make it forever impossible that the public debt shall ever be endangered by the payment of a single dollar for emancipated slaves or Confederate obligations. Let these words, or words to the same effect, be incorporated into the Constitution of the United States

"No payment shall ever be made by the United States or any State for or on account of the emancipation of any slave, or for or on account of any debt contracted or incurred in aid of rebellion against the national Government."

Let the Confederate States be required, as a condition precedent to their admission into these chambers, to adopt it. Its incorporation into the organic law of the land will hedge about the national debt with additional guarantees and securities, and make safer every interest of the country and people. Five years ago the leaders and originators of the rebellion, without one wrong to be righted, one right to be vindicated, left these chambers, turned their back upon country, duty and honor, and sought, through fire and blood of civil war, the dismemberment of the republic and the death of the nation. Three hundred thousand loyal heroes, in the bloom of life, have died that the nation might live. Hundreds of thousands more, scarred and maimed, or bowed by wasting disease, linger among us, and a national debt of vast proportions burdens the industries of the future. These are the legacies treason leaves to the nation. Now, those people that five years ago called home their representatives ... made vacant these chairs—again seek admission to these halls. Surely, it is the right and the bounden duty of far-seeing statesmanship to demand and take responsible security for the future of the country. Ere the Representatives of rebellious States come back, a loyal people may require new guarantees for the safety of the country saved by their money and their blood. It is, to my poor comprehension, time lost to discuss the mooted problem whether the States lately in rebellion are or are not in the Union. The discussion of the schoolmen in the Middle Ages were hardly less fruitful of practical results. One thing is clear to the practical sense of the country—the people of the rebel States are an abject, individually and collectively, to the power, will and authority of the nation as are the people of New England, of the Central States, or of the West. These insurrectionary States declared they would go out of the Union the nation declared they should not. They fought four years to get out of the Union—the nation fought four years to keep them in. They were defeated and their power annihilated. Not a flag of their ... , ... of their ... glitters in the sunlight. The flag of united America floats over their strongholds, over city and hamlet, and the tramp of her conquering legions rings in the ear of a subjugated people. Courts and Custom-houses and Post-Offices are open, judicial officers and Collectors of Revenue and internal revenues are there, and the authority and power of the National Government are as complete there now as on the day South Carolina led the dance of secession. The protection of the nation for person and property is now more perfect than at any other period for the past generation; for all the purposes of governmental authority over the people of these States, the Union is entire and complete. True, the practical relations of the States to the Union are not completely re-established. The Senators and Representatives from the rebellious States are not yet here to participate in our legislation and to frame laws for the country they have striven to blot from the map of the nation. They cannot yet lay their hands upon the statute book of the country, nor aid in shaping the future of the regenerated republic. When they are to come is for the Congress of the United States to determine. Ere they shall come, we owe it to our country, to the interests of the loyal millions, to see that such conditions are imposed as justice and liberty, the enduring interests of the whole nation and the public safety require. We may not require of the returning representatives of the rebellious States, as conditions of admission, that they shall always vote for taxes to pay the annual interest of the debt their ... imposed on their country, or for the extinguishment of that debt at no distant period, nor may require of them that they shall vote to pay the pensions pledged to our sacred veterans, or to the widows and orphans of our slain heroes; but we can require, and we should require, as a condition precedent to their admission, the complete repudiation of all rebel debts, and the entire abandonment of all claims for an emancipated race. The people of the loyal States, if Congress shall give them the opportunity, will ... incorporate into the fundamental law of the land these words, or words of like import: "No payment shall ever be made by the United States or any State, for or on account of the emancipation of any slave or slaves, or for or on account of any debt contracted or incurred in aid of the rebellion against the National Government."

New Road—A Much Needed Work.

The inconveniences and difficulty incident to travel on the several wagon roads which lead from this city in a westerly direction have always been severely felt. During fully half the year it is next to impossible for the people who occupy the valuable and extensive agricultural country west of Portland to reach the city by any mode of conveyance.—When we talk about the impassableness of Oregon roads during the rainy season, we do not suppose we are relating anything very new, but it may be interesting to some to be informed of improvements that are making or being projected whereby some of the difficulties in the way of reaching Portland from the west will be obviated or removed. The old road through the "canyon" west of town is very bad in winter and quite difficult at any season of the year. The roads which lead directly over the mountain toward Washington county, are of too steep a grade to be of much use. Another road is proposed which, it is believed, will be decidedly preferable to any hitherto constructed. This road is to commence near the west end of Sherman street in Caruthers' addition to the city of Portland, and to ascend the mountain by a very light grade in a southwesterly direction to R. Patton's. The survey shows that the grade for the first thousand feet will be ten feet in one hundred. This is less than half as steep as some grades on the old road. Were the road to commence on Lincoln or Grant streets, it would probably be reduced so that the acclivity would be considerably easier. After the first thousand feet the grade will in no part of the road exceed eight feet in one hundred, and for most of the way it will be much less. The distance to Mr. Patton's is a little less than a mile and a half. It is believed that the road might be extended from this point across the mountain without encountering any grade greater than eight feet in one hundred. Were this new road completed so as to intersect the "canyon road" three or four miles west of the city, it would be found that the distance to Tualatin Plains would not be increased by more than half a mile, and that this would be much more than compensated by the excellence of the new road. It will be impossible to make a good road through the "canyon" and to keep it in proper repair during the winter season. The stream which flows the whole length of the road carries away embankments, bridges, etc., every winter, and land slides often occur, precipitating vast masses of earth, with trees and stones into the road, totally obstructing it for days together. It is believed that this new road might be made better than the "canyon road" ever can become. Were the proposed road properly graded and macadamized, we are of opinion that it would afford the best route to the city from the west that could be obtained.

Postal Affairs.

It is in contemplation by the Postoffice Department to discontinue a number of small postoffices in Oregon and Washington Territory on account of the habitual failure of postmasters to render their quarterly returns in accordance with the postal laws and regulations.

The discontinuance of these offices will be a serious loss and inconvenience to the communities dependent upon them for their mail matter, and we sincerely hope and trust that no postmaster will allow his office to be discontinued through failure on his part to discharge his duty. It is bad enough when postoffices are abolished for reasons that are beyond our power to control; but when the Government has bountifully supplied us with postoffices and mail service, and we, by our neglect, allow these facilities to be withdrawn, we can blame no one but ourselves.

It is an inflexible rule with the Postoffice Department that neither stamps nor stamped envelopes will be furnished to any postmaster who is in arrears with his quarterly returns. But no instance can be cited where a postmaster prompt in making his quarterly returns has made a requisition on the proper office, for stamps or stamped envelopes, and been refused. It is to the interest of the Department to dispose of as many stamps as possible, but it would be wrong in the Department and a violation of the regulations to forward them to postmasters who are behind with their quarterly returns. It is, therefore, apparent that not only the continuance of postoffices but their proper supply of stamps, &c., is dependent upon the promptness of the postmasters in the matter of their quarterly accounts.

If a postmaster does not wish to serve in that capacity any longer, he should make the fact known to his fellow-citizens, and request them to get up a recommendation for the appointment of a suitable person who will attend to the business promptly. These recommendations, together with the resignation of the incumbent, should be forwarded to the Postal Agent at Portland.

In conclusion we cannot too strongly urge upon postmasters the importance and necessity of prompt returns as required by law, and will again express the hope that no offices will be discontinued through their neglect.

A Misrepresentation Corrected.—The Courier professing to give an account of the Yamhill Union Convention says that during the session, "three distinguished black republicans" indulged in "a regular old fashioned fisticuff."

A correspondent of ours who was present refers to the Courier's statement and says:

Now the facts are there was no fight in the convention, neither was there a harsh word spoken, nor even an evil thought, judging from the peace and harmony that prevailed throughout its deliberations.

The Courier says in another place that no resolutions were passed "because of the radical disagreement of the committee detailed to prepare some." The same correspondent says of this statement:

This lie as well as others had its origin in the father of lies and is only propagated and told by kindred spirits here on earth. There was no committee on resolutions appointed. There was none asked for, neither was there any other committee appointed save the committee on credentials. Is it not strange that newspaper men will get so low as to make such gross misrepresentations on purpose to deceive? What will not modern Democracy do to gain their points? I was a member of the convention, was there all the time of its deliberations and know what I have stated is true. Yamhill is all right for next June.

"Democratic Items."—Upon the arrival of a steamer the other evening, at the wharf of a city which we need not name now, the "local" of a Democratic newspaper rushed up to the steamer's purser and addressing him by name, asked, "Have you got any good democratic items for us, to-day?" "Yes," said the purser, "there go two of them," pointing his finger at a couple of manacled fellows in charge of a policeman, who had just stepped off the boat. The crowd around saw the point, and indulged in some "laffter" amid which "local" retired.

The Democracy designate themselves as the "true friends of the Government." The Serpent professed a great deal of friendship for our first parents. Judas Iscariot loved his master so well that he kissed him. What came of it in both cases is suggestive of what the Democratic friendship would do for the Government.

A Court Martial.—We are informed that a court martial will be convened in a few days, at Vancouver for the trial of an officer, acting as Quartermaster and Commissary of Subsistence at Fort Stevens. The substance of the charge, as stated to us, is swindling the Government.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MARCH 20.

Pressure in Dry Goods Trade—Failures—Consequent Excitement

New York, March 20.—Many dry goods have been sold [illegible] for currency at less than cost in gold. Several failures are reported in the provision trade at Buffalo and some excitement was created here to-day by the disappearance of [illegible] with $100,000. [illegible] mysterious [illegible] into the hands of [illegible].

The [illegible] is in a flourishing condition [illegible] go out full of freight [illegible].

Liquor Seizure Cases in Massachusetts

Boston, March 21.—[illegible] yesterday [illegible] returned to the [illegible] the United States [illegible] the internal revenue took precedence of the State law. The case excites much comment and interest among [illegible].

Departure of a Telegraph Agent.—

New York, March 21.—The steamer New York sailed to-day for Aspinwall. Among the passengers was Thos W. Knox, the well known correspondent lately connected with the associated press agency, who will accompany the telegraph expedition through Siberia and Russia.

Appointments.

Washington, March 21.—Dr. Ballard, of Oregon has been appointed Governor of Idaho, and it will doubtless be confirmed by the Senate. John M. Thayer, of Nebraska has been [illegible] Major General.

Terrific Storm.

Chicago, March 21.—A terrific storm passed over northern Illinois yesterday afternoon doing great damage. Hailstones large as hens eggs fell in some places.

Congressional.

Washington, March 21.—In the House Price of Iowa on the committee on the Pacific Railroad, reported a bill to secure the speedy construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad. Julian introduced a bill equalizing soldiers and sailors bounty. Referred to Committee on Military Affairs. Henderson of Oregon, presented a joint resolution of the Legislature of Oregon in regard to Oregon war claims. [illegible] of New Jersey, said the friends of [illegible] buried at Arlington Cemetery were apprehensive that it should reach the heirs of General Lee, therefore he [illegible] to read a letter from the Secretary of War, which states the Arlington property was bid in for the Government at $26,000, at a sale for unpaid taxes January 11th 1866. The certificate of sale would soon be placed on file in the Treasury Department. The House passed the diplomatic appropriation bill with an amendment authorizing the appointment of a solicitor for the department at an annual salary of $3,000. The House also passed the bill to prevent railroads which have received land grants from receiving any compensation for Government business.

In the Senate Brown, of Missouri, introduced a bill to aid the construction of a railroad from Kansas City to Galveston. Ramsey, of Minnesota presented a memorial from the Minnesota Legislature for the establishment of a port of entry at the head of Lake Superior. The Senate passed a bill providing for incorporating the Kansas Railroad Company and also a bill to punish counterfeiting or altering any bond.

Gen. Sheridan gone to the Rio Grande.

Chicago, March 22.—An order detailing Gen. Sheridan as a member of the special army board to meet in St Louis, reached him in New Orleans just as he was preparing to go on important service to Rio Grande frontier. The troops there are said to be in a disordered state, and fears are entertained in consequence that new complications might arise between our Government and the French in Mexico. He deemed it necessary, therefore, to go there to regulate affairs in that Department, so as to maintain order. The Secretary of War therefore did not request the order for Gen Sheridan's presence in St. Louis. The board will doubtless proceed without him.

Proceedings in Congress.

No conclusion has been arrived at by the ways and means committee on the finance bill. The committee will take a vote on the matter to-morrow, with probability of reaching the bill, and again reporting the bill which came so near passing.

Secretary McCulloch contends that he must have complete control over all securities and postage of New York.

The Chairman of the House Committee on Printing in the report yesterday on printing the Patent Office Report made expose of the amount of paper used by Government calculated to open the eyes of the public. He says it uses one-thirteenth of all printing paper used in the United States, in fact by this it is the greatest publishing house in the world. And when it goes into the market to buy it affects the whole paper trade, consequently if reductions in the quantity used by Congress were made, it would have much effect in reducing the price and lowering tariff.

The quantity of printing now ordered was so enormous that Congress had to take one of three choices, either to countermand orders or to wait from one to three days for the execution of work or enlarge the Government Printing Office. The Senate yesterday passed the bill authorizing the construction of submarine telegraph between the United States and the West Indies, with exclusive privilege for 14 years. The Senate yesterday confirmed a large number of appointments, among them Edward McCook of Colorado, Minister resident at the Hawaiian Islands; H. Hawkins, of Nevada, Consul at Bombay; Wm. H. Sargeant, of Oregon, Indian Agent, in the Territory of Washington; Franklin H. Head, of Utah, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, for the Territory of Utah; Thos. Murphy, Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Central Superintendency; C. B. Taylor, of Nebraska, Superintendent Indian Affairs for Northern Superintendency; Jas. K. Hansen, of Dacotah, Agent of Indians of the region of the Upper Missouri River; C. H. Norris, Nebraska, agent for the Sacs and Sioux; D. C. Oakes, of Col., Agent for Grand River Indians; B. L. Fairfield of California, Agent for Mad River Indians; Jacob L. Houghton, of New Mexico, Associate Justice of the Territory of New Mexico.

Several Connecticut members had an interview with the President; among them Senator Foster and Gen. Hawley, Union candidate for Governor. The interview was of a private nature, and is reported to have been satisfactory to the callers. The President stated that he had given no intimation of a desire for the election of Senator, but on the contrary desires the [illegible] of the Union nominees, and is glad to see a disposition manifested by the people to support soldiers.

The House Election Committee voted six to three that James D. Brooks is not entitled to a seat in Congress, and that Dodge is. It has been anticipated for some time that Brooks would be ousted on the ground of fraudulent votes. A call is issued by the National Union Committee of which Alexander Randall, 1st Assistant Postmaster General is President, for a grand mass meeting to be held at Washington next week to endorse President Johnson.

The bill [illegible] both houses yesterday prohibiting compensation for Government business performed by railroads to whom lands is granted; but provides that roads constructed within States may be constructed so as to form through routes. This latter section is intended to apply to the Delaware and Raritan Railroad so as to permit it to make direct connection between Philadelphia and New York, thus encircling the extensive grant made by the Camden and Amboy Railroad. The first clause is intended to apply to all roads built upon land grants.

The Rhode Island democracy in convention yesterday made no nominations, but appointed a committee to bring forward a ticket hereafter, if expedient. Resolutions were adopted declaring the constitution to be the foundation of American liberty; opposing tax without representation, and endorsing Andrew Johnson.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

San Francisco, March 22.—Private dispatches received in this city to-day announce the loss of the steamship Granadian, which left Liverpool for Aspinwall, January 24th. She had a full cargo of merchandise mostly for San Francisco. It is not stated if any lives were lost. She belonged to the line of steamers running between England and Central America.

Arnold Linden, a German, 51 years of age, died suddenly in his bed last night, at the corner of Pacific and Davis streets. Supposed cause of death, disease of the heart.

Monetary.

No later New York gold quotations than 20th instant, 127¼, but firm. Brisk demand for legal tenders at an advance of about 1 per cent. The supposition is that there is further decline in gold. Leading brokers quote them at 76@76¼.

Mining shares with few exceptions firmer though the market is not very active, and closing transactions at morning board yesterday. Crown Point advanced $50, H & Norcross $35; Ophir, $10; Bullion $8; Yellow Jacket $5 and Chollar Potosi $2 50. Confidence fell $12 50; Savage, $10; Imperial, $4.

The Markets.

Butter—Eastern is inactive and nominal 42½@45c for prime on account of shipments from New York yesterday as we learn by a telegram. Ranch butter sells freely at 42½ for choice with inferior 35@37½. Fruit—Further sales of 500 bxs Malaga raisins ex Sepoy at $4 75. Whisky—Sales 75 bbls eastern common, reported at $1 25. Flour—Market dull at $6 00@$6 50 per bbl for superfine in sks; $6 25@$7 00 as extremes for extra. Barley—limit with sales of small lots at 87½@95c per 100 lbs for ordinary to prime. Oats—Dull, nominally at $1 62@$2 00 per 100 lbs. Potatoes—$1 15@$2 00 per 100 lbs.

Shipping News.

Arrived March 21—Ship Swallow 100 days from Boston consigned to C W Brooks & Co. 22d—United States steamer Saginaw 20 days from Panama.

Sailed, March 21—Bark Gold Hunter, Puget Sound. 22d—Bark Ethan Allen, Portland. Bark Jenkins, Puget Sound.

All Right.—A correspondent from Yamhill county says of the convention of last Saturday "Everything was done quietly and in order and there seemed to be but one spirit and determination and that was, to thrash all Copperhead opposition next June, in this county." All right—go in with that spirit, fight it out on that line and you will thrash the Cops. We commend the Yamhill spirit to the other counties.

Washington Territory Items.—The citizens of Walla Walla are attempting to raise $5,000 to aid in re opening the Mullan road.

Phillip Ritz, a nurseryman of Walla Walla, is shipping fruit and ornamental trees to Portland.

The Statesman says that packers refuse to take freight through by the Pend Oreille Lake route though anxious to secure loading for the Montana mines.

Probably the Wrong Name.—An item in to-day's dispatches states that Wm. H. Sargent of Oregon has been confirmed as Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Washington Territory. The name should probably be Wm. H. Barnhart.

WILLAMETTE THEATRE.—The attendance at the above place of amusement last night to witness the tragedy of "Hamlet," which was the only performance of the evening, was quite fashionable and correspondingly as respectable in numbers. Miss Charlotte Crampton was announced to make her first appearance before a Portland audience, seemed to attract many who have not been very regular attendants to the Theatre of late, but they were not disappointed in their expectations. The part of Hamlet was assumed by the lady in which it was more easily apparent she was in all respects master of the piece. Laboring under the effects of a severe cold it was evident that the task was no light one to the actress, but on her part there was nothing wanting. She was not as well supported as she should have been, yet the play was more successfully rendered than we have ever before seen it on our boards. Mrs. Phelps' Ophelia was produced with the usual grace and fine characterization of that talented actress, while the parts of Laertes, and The Ghost especially performed by Mr. Phelps, would have done credit to more pretentious actors. Miss Crampton evidently made an impression upon the audience last night. The good words that had preceded her were more than corroborated by her first appearance, and we predict that in future the lady will become as popular in our midst among the appreciative class of playgoers at the Theatre, as any that have hitherto been recipients of their admiration. We can only and conscientiously reiterate all that has been said in her behalf by the press elsewhere, and join in wishing her success everywhere.

FRIENDLY INDIANS.—Much is being said by the press in all parts of the country about the acts of Indians, and people are expressing themselves favorable to the mildest course to be pursued towards "friendly Indians." As an illustration, showing the disposition of friendly Indians to the superior races, we have a case in point, which occurred in this city recently. An old Indian and two [illegible] applied to one of our citizens for a job of wood sawing. They were employed, and did the work quite as well as a white man could have done it, for which they received full pay. The Indian evinced considerable gratitude for the citizen, and upon solicitation, was presented with a pretty tolerable pair of pantaloons, in addition to the fee for his work. This was all very well, but the next day the siwash returned, and being seen in the door yard, was asked what he wanted. He replied [illegible] for an apple, when half a dozen from an open box in the wood house were given him, and he went away. That night the gentleman lost his wood-saw and [illegible], of course he does not impute the theft to the [illegible] Indian." It must have been some other one of the aborigines not since been seen and it is evident that if he had taken the implements during the day [illegible] he would have [illegible] regard for [illegible] that would preclude a presumption on [illegible] as to the system as to wake him out of his sleep for the purpose of asking permission, and [illegible] have returned to thank the man for the use.

HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY FREIGHT.—The [illegible] took up the Columbia river [illegible] twenty-five tons of freight for the Hudson's Bay Company, which is finding its way through our territory [illegible] posts to the posts of that Company [illegible] above Colville. The Company have [illegible] large amount of their supplies in this direction, and we are informed that if it was possible for them to get up the Columbia river exempt from duty, [illegible] this method of transporting the bulk of [illegible] for that region. The question has been [illegible] of the Customs Collector, and [illegible] of the Company, but is not yet decided [illegible] but little for the much vaunted [illegible] of Commerce, and those persons [illegible] the direct travel of California by the way of Victoria and the Fraser river. It [illegible] what the Chamber of Commerce say it is. [illegible] that the Hudson's Bay Company [illegible] their freight to the same locality [illegible] way of the Columbia river? The facts [illegible] The route via the Fraser and Kamloops [illegible] and miners had better beware of [illegible].

[illegible] SCHOOL.—Work on Oro Fino Hall [illegible]. The building, although [illegible] will be a credit to the city. The hall of which [illegible] is 50 by 80 feet in size, with [illegible] walls wainscoted and hard finished [illegible] two large rooms. One will [illegible] the use of the hall above, and is 2[illegible] The other is 23 feet by 50. On the [illegible] other [illegible] in process of erection [illegible] Mr. Burchard, of the Gem, proposes [illegible] on the site of [illegible] and billiard rooms. The Nicolson [illegible] which is [illegible] along First street, has [illegible] building, and we look for the most [illegible] on that street, when it is made passable. [illegible] built by Messrs. Goodnough & Clark, for [illegible] Glenn & Wakefield, is a very creditable [illegible] will be as thorough and substantial [illegible] as any in the city, notwithstanding the [illegible] of weather under which it has [illegible] other the buildings are in contemplation [illegible] to be commenced as soon as the [illegible].

[illegible] of this city handed us [illegible] from Mr. Stevens Crittenden, a few [illegible] giving further testimony in regard to [illegible] of Mr. Mercer. The story of [illegible] that the [illegible] was compelled to [illegible] city, including the clergy. These [illegible] strangers [illegible] Mr. Hill of New York [illegible] to the matters in the [illegible] 7th, has the [illegible] from the Pacific [illegible] and social [illegible] of Washington Territory gave him a [illegible] Agent. He was [illegible] and public. It [illegible] has [illegible] number of very [illegible] cases of [illegible] have [illegible] of the honor that should [illegible] the immediate necessities of [illegible] and Maps Wicked, and we [illegible] the public sympathy are [illegible].

The steamer Gen. Grant, Capt. Kern, met [illegible] a few miles below this city on [illegible] afternoon, by the breaking of a portion of [illegible] containing a flaw, by which the upper [illegible] cylinder was blown out, causing steam to [illegible] with great force, and in quantities sufficient to [illegible] the Steward, Mr. Wm Carroll, and some [illegible] Mr. Geo. Phillips, engineer, and Thomas [illegible] of the Captain. The Grant had on [illegible] of a cargo, bound to this city from Vancouver [illegible] it happened, when the accident occurred [illegible] was within a short distance of the [illegible] to the [illegible] towing the Grant to the [illegible] Iron Works Company, where she [illegible] going repairs. The [illegible] together with the guides, [illegible] will have to be replaced. The [illegible] treated, and no fears are entertained of any [illegible] resulting from the casualty.

DEATH.—We regret to learn of the death of Mr. J. H. [illegible], which occurred a few days since at La Grande [illegible] of this city. Having [illegible] in this City for a few years past [illegible] Wood & Co., by his [illegible] spirit had won a very [illegible] a most popular [illegible] during the [illegible] from Oro Fino to the Dalles, [illegible] we believe, to this [illegible].

[illegible] Knapp, Burrell & Co offer [illegible] a fine lot of shade, ornamental, and fruit [illegible] the Columbia Valley Nursery, at Walla [illegible] the variety offered we may mention the [illegible] poplar, weeping willow, India tamarisk, [illegible] etc. See advertisement. The Columbia Valley [illegible] has become a quite popular institution of the upper country, under the careful management of Mr Philip Ritz for some years past.

[illegible] LAY.—The "red tape" part of the First [illegible] is now completed. The contracts for [illegible] down of the Nicolson pavement on that thoroughfare [illegible] between A and Madison streets were let yesterday. Messrs J. H Perry & Co., were the lowest bidders for [illegible] blocks of the work, and Messrs. Tackaberry & [illegible] were the lowest bidding on six blocks, each of [illegible] received contracts according to specifications on their bids.

RECORDER'S COURT—HOFFMAN J.—March. 22d, 1866. [illegible] vs. M. F. Gallagher, [illegible] of killing Geo. Radon. [illegible] is completed, and defendant committed to await trial at the next term of the Circuit Court. To-day at [illegible] a decision as to whether defendant shall be admitted to bail, will be entered. City vs. John [illegible], charged of being drunk and disorderly, defendant [illegible] ... Two cases appeared on the docket for trial to-day.

COTTON PLANTING.—We learn by private letter from the East, that our former townsman, A. H. Starr, Esq., and W. H. Eddy, Esq., of Milwaukie, have purchased a cotton plantation of 3,000 acres, Albany, near Dougherty county, Alabama. They intend planting 1,000 acres the present season.

DELINQUENT SCHOOL TAX.—Mr. Parrish is obliged to make his returns to the School Directors of the District before the 1st of April—a time nearly approaching—and in order that all may have an opportunity to pay their school taxes, gives proper notice in another column to-day. Read it.

CITY TAXES.—So far the present year tax payers in the city have responded to the calls for paying their obligations very promptly. There remains but about $1,500 or $2,000 to be paid. Marshal Hoyt has decided to advertise the lands delinquent, after a few days more, for sale.

DEPARTURE OF THE TUG.—The steam tug Rabboni left [illegible] for San Francisco, as the Captain states positively. If this is so who are the pilots now on the Columbia river bar? There is more work for the Legislatures of Oregon and Washington Territory, and the Pilot [illegible].

GOING FOR BARGAINS.—Mr. Richardson will to-morrow [illegible] transfer to his numerous hearers a large stock of notions, pipes, etc., "too numerous to mention." See advertisement. The stock is genuine, coming from an [illegible] establishment in San Francisco—lately closed out.

ATTRACTIVE SALE.—The rooms of Kilbourn & Co. were very attractively arranged last night for the sale to-day and the goods to be disposed of are well worthy of attention. See advertisement.

THE BONNIE NEVADA.—The average time of the Sierra Nevada, under command of Captain Francis Connor, makes it pretty sure to calculate that she will arrive here to-day.

[illegible]—The Circuit Court for Clackamas county [illegible] on Wednesday evening.

State Items

The Columbia County Convention was held on Saturday. We are too much crowded to be able to publish the proceedings entire. Dean Blanchard was elected delegate to the Union State Convention and the following resolutions adopted with great unanimity:

WHEREAS, Our beloved country has just emerged from a struggle between life and death involving in its issue the existence of the republican government, requiring the assistance and co-operation of every citizen of the land; and

WHEREAS, The great question of national prosperity is paramount to all party considerations; therefore it is

Resolved, That we endorse the policy enunciated by President Johnson, in which he declares that treason should be made odious and be punished; and his declaration that the abolition of slavery should be made final and the rights of freedmen respected.

Resolved, That we approve of the good measures of the administration, particularly as directed towards any party setting our national difficulty as honest and patriotic in their intentions, and as abundantly vindicating their wisdom in the results which have already ensued.

Resolved, That we are in favor of a strict adherence to the Congressional test oath and are in favor of the States formerly in rebellion being represented in Congress as soon as they send loyal men who can take the oath prescribed by Congress.

Resolved, That those are our enemies under whatever name they are called, whether traitors revolutionists, assassins or Democrats; that we only see one object in view with them, and that was to extend slavery or divide the Union, and as they failed to do either we now extend (to those that were led by their leaders) the bond of fellowship and welcome them to a regenerated republic.

Resolved, That we throw aside all difference of opinion and work as one man for the principles given us by the father of the party and savior of his country, Abraham Lincoln.

The Union Convention of Columbia county for the nomination of a county ticket will be held on Thursday, the 17th day of April.

During the week ending March 20th there were shipped from the Lafayette warehouses, 734 sacks of flour, 41 gunnies of bacon and 18 packages of eggs. The Courier says: The farmers are generally holding their wheat, of which there is an abundant supply, for better prices." The indications point to a decline, rather than an advance, in the price of wheat.

The Mountaineer estimates that at least two thirds of all the people starting for the mines are bound to Montana, while the remainder will distribute themselves in the Idaho and John Day mines. The estimate is probably very nearly correct.

The Upper Columbia river is rapidly rising. The Umatilla Advertiser says the Umatilla is also rising and that the stage of water will soon enable the steamers to ascend Snake river to Lewiston.

Joel Palmer, H. V. V. Johnson, R. R. Laughlin, Jas. A. Richardson and W. Burnett, were elected delegates from Yamhill county to the State Convention. The County Convention transacted no other business.

The delegates from Grant county to the Union Convention, are, M. A. Berry, F. Adams, H. C. Gregory, T. H. Brents and J. F. Wolfinger.

High water at Canyon City had done a considerable damage to the miners by filling up their claims with debris, but Mr. Berry who is just down from there, reports that they are now getting to work, with good prospects.

The Mountaineer says that a few days since, a band of Indians drove a lot of horses they had stolen, so close to Camp Watson that the sentinel on duty at the post could distinctly recognize them. Every person at Canyon City, who owns a cow or horse, is compelled to guard them, and the miners are confined to the limits of the town to save their hair. A very bad state of affairs and one that calls loudly upon the military authorities for correction.

Mr. F. Molloan writes from Middle Fork road, sixteen miles from Canyon Creek, March 12th, to a friend at the Dalles that, Benjamin Powers was frozen to death the night before, three miles from the Mountain House. He was traveling with a party of others and becoming very much fatigued he concluded to stop, build a fire, rest himself a while and then go on. The rest of the party went on without any apprehensions for his safety as he had two pairs of blankets and plenty of matches with which to start a fire. The next morning, as he did not come in, a man was dispatched for him. He was found two miles from where he was left the night before, having evidently attempted to reach the Mountain House. He was still alive, but died before he could be got in. Another of the same party, John Johns, gave out before reaching the station, and had to be brought in by a man who went back for him. His feet were badly frozen. Mr. Powers is the man who assisted in recruiting Capt. Borland's company of volunteers last year.

A short time since at Ellensburg, Curry county, an inebriated fellow threatened to kill the Deputy Sheriff, who thereupon arrested him, but on his promise to behave himself released him in a short time. The Deputy was, however, obliged to re-arrest him, doing which, he received several severe wounds in the neck inflicted by the drunken man.

Major Sprague, Paymaster, U. S. A., has gone to Fort Klamath to pay off the soldiers stationed there.

A Mr. Sawyer, of Kerbyville, is about to erect at that place a large flouring mill.

Jackson county furnishes to the mines of Josephine county about twenty-five thousand dollar's worth of flour. Josephine is said to buy of neighboring counties not less than forty thousand dollars in flour, bacon and oats.

Idaho News.

The following news is from the Idaho Statesman from the 8th to the 13th inclusive:

INDIAN HOSTILITIES.

In Tuesday's issue we published a short note from Lieutenant Pepoon in regard to the attack on Dr. Inskip's house in Jordan valley. The following letter gives more of the particulars and mentions also the killing of the other men since that time:

OFFICE WELLS, FARGO & CO.,
RUBY CITY, March 8th, 1866.

More sad news was brought up from Jordan valley this afternoon. Last Friday evening about dusk, the Indians chased Mr. Osborn—horse and all—into Dr. Inskip's house and kept up a furious attack on the premises all night, completely riddling the board part with balls—fortunately not hurting any one. During the night they killed a horse within sight of the house, built a fire, cooked and ate him up. Mr. Osborn got out of the back side of the house and went to the camp for help. Thirty soldiers were sent out but unfortunately lost their way and did not succeed in intercepting the savages who continued their firing on the house until after daylight, and until about eight o'clock, when they left down the road towards the Owyhee. Some hours afterwards parties passing down the road found the bodies of two men, Messrs. Lockwood and Brown, who had been murdered by the savages and one of them horribly mutilated—being scalped and his heart cut out and stuck on a stake. Mr. Lockwood was well known here and universally respected and this brutal outrage caused intense feeling hereabouts. I cannot get full particulars, but this is the substance of the lamentable affair. This band of Indians were about thirty in number and seem to have followed in the rear of Captain Walker's party. The rapidity and length of time they continued to fire on Dr. Inskip's house proved that they were well armed with firearms and had plenty of ammunition. Everybody is asking where this was of taken, and the universal opinion here is THAT IT CAME FROM BOISE CITY. While you are sending men out keep a watch for the FRIENDLY Indians prowling around your town.

Mr. Osborn and [illegible] had started for California but losing their stock were compelled to return.

Yours, BROWN.

Mr. J. J. McConnell writes of the same date that the names of the murdered men were Brown and Morse. [illegible] It is a little uncertain whether Morse or Lockwood was killed. The men were hauling timber for the ferry and were attacked when they were murdered. The Indians took the team and went on down the valley. Fears were entertained at Ruby for three men who were at the ferry building a boat, but we learn from the last of Capt. Walker's party that just returned that there is a guard from camp Lyon stationed at the ferry for protection.

Since the above was put in type a messenger arrived from camp Lyon who states the names of the murdered men to be Brown and Mott. Capt. Updyke with his company, had turned up Snake river toward the Bruneau valley. The Indians on the Bruneau are known to have good stock.

EMIGRATION EASTWARD.

The Idaho Statesman says: "There is to be considerable emigration eastward this spring from Idaho. A company of forty or fifty persons, including several families, are preparing to start from Boise City about the 20th inst. All persons intending to cross the plains early this year would do well to be ready by that time so as to make the company as large as convenient. Most if not all of this company, intend to return to Idaho this fall or next year. Some go to make visits to friends, some to sell mines or get machinery and some for their sweet hearts so as to make more permanent and desirable their homes in Idaho. The increased security of travel and improved condition of the roads and ferries will make the journey this year but a trip of pleasure."

REMEMBER, IF YOU HAVE A COLD OR COUGH that Hall's Pulmonary Balsam will cure you quicker than any other known remedy can do; the genuine is put up in 50 cent bottles only.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulus is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

In all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants. LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

NEW YORK, Feb 20, 1866.

BUILDING PROGRESS OF THE NEW OCEAN STEAMER

Knowing the interest felt by your readers in anything that will tend towards improving your traveling and shipping facilities between Portland and San Francisco, I have lately paid another visit to the ship yard of Messrs Lawrence & Foulks, at Williamsburg, for the purpose of ascertaining the progress making on the new ocean steamship now under construction, under the auspices of Messrs Ladd & Bradford I am happy to say that the work is in a very forward state of progress. The hull of the vessel is constructed of three water tight compartments, so that if one of them should be in a leaky condition the other two would be capable of keeping the ship afloat. The frame is entirely up, keelsons and deck beams in, wales on the planking well advanced. She is strapped diagonally with iron bars 4½ inches wide by ⅞ thick, rivetted through between the frames. Straps are rivetted to an iron girth 6 inches wide by 1 thick, going entirely around the top of the vessel and fastened at the bottom of the floor. The length of the vessel is 270 feet, 42 feet beam, and depth of hold 21 feet. Floors are of solid white oak 17 inches thick; futtocks and top timbers of white oak, hacmatac keelsons and ceiling of yellow pine, the outside planking of oak, wales, yellow pine, knees, hacmatac, beams, yellow pine; carlings, yellow pine and hacmatac; her steerage berths will be 402 in number, and her cabin 200, fitted up in the most modern well-appointed staterooms, and warmed by heaters. All her work is calculated to be equal to the finest ship afloat, and the same is to be the case with the painting and ornamental work. Her machinery is now in course of construction at the Allen works in this city, and is to consist of an engine having a cylinder 82 inches in diameter, with 12 feet stroke; Scotch tubular boilers; surface condenser; independent fire pumps; donkey boiler and engine, as well as hoisting engine for taking in and discharging cargo, all of modern improvement. Her tonnage measurement is 2,400 tons, with a carrying capacity of 1,400 tons. It is hoped when loaded she will not exceed in draught 12½ feet. The builders of the ship are expecting to launch her in April next. From Messrs. Ladd and Bradford I learn that the cost of the vessel when completed will be about $400,000 in gold, and that it is their intention to give Oregonians an opportunity to take some stock in the vessel, so as to make it entirely an Oregon enterprise, and the profits arising therefrom remain in your own State instead of enriching outsiders as you have done for years past.

In connection with the above I think it not improper for me to state that it is to be hoped there will be enough enterprising men found among you who will subscribe also an additional amount to build another steamer of the same class as above described, to run alternate trips on the route from San Francisco to Portland with the one now in course of completion.

IDAHOANS ABOUT.

Owing, no doubt, to the inconveniences of working in the mines at this season of the year, many an "honest miner" has taken advantage of the situation and taken a trip east, and from my observation I'm able to say that nearly all are well supplied with a number of title deeds and specimens (?) taken from their mining claims, with which they propose to convince "shoddy" that, since their occupation is gone in the way of making money from Government contracts, they had better invest in mining claims in Owyhee or South Boise, which would be profitable and honorable to themselves; but I must confess that as far as I have ascertained, few of the above individuals are willing or able to see it in the same light. Still your northern mining regions are earning at present a more world-wide reputation for resources than any heretofore discovered on the Pacific coast, and a number of capitalists have and will invest in good mining property.

CONSCIENCE MONEY.—The Secretary of the Treasury to-day received a letter postmarked Washington, Feb. 1, the writer saying, "The enclosed [...] (five thousand dollars) [...] belongs to the United States, though the world would say I came by it honestly." But I count a clear conscience of more value than money can represent or express."

[...] individual forwarded [...] over fifty-one hundred dollars to General Spinner, which had been improperly paid him by the United States Government. The sum was promptly added to the "Conscience Fund," which now amounts to over twenty thousand dollars.

Mr. Nye, (rep.) of Nevada, offered a joint resolution, which was adopted, requiring the Secretary of the Interior to set apart a room in the Patent Office for the exhibition of specimens of gold and silver.

Col. [...] of the Northern Pacific Railroad, notified the [...] two days ago that the company was prepared and about to [...] the line. Subscriptions will soon be [...] throughout the country, and a strong effort made to push the work vigorously.

Senator Evans, of Colorado, has written a letter to the Union Pacific Railroad Company, now in [...] at New York, urging the importance of a more thorough survey to find a feasible passage of the Rocky Mountains in Colorado, between the head of the Arkansas river and that of Boulder creek, by which route over one hundred miles of railroad can be saved in reaching Great Salt Lake. He claims that this [...] through a country capable of settlement most of the way, abounding in fertile valleys, timber, coal and pure water.

SALE OF BEN. HOLLIDAY'S STAGE ROUTE.—I have learned from good authority that Benj. Holliday sold yesterday all his right, title and interest to the overland stage route and property pertaining thereto, for the snug little sum of one million, seven hundred thousand dollars. The name of the purchaser has not yet been made public.

OCCASIONAL.

DU CHAILLU ON THE AFRICAN PIGMIES.—Du Chaillu publishes the following interesting letter in the London Times:

To the Editor of the Times—Sir: As I find that the report of what J. Crawfurd said in reference to the small and peculiar tribe of natives which I met with in the mountains of Western Equatorial Africa, between one degree and two degrees south latitude, and about twelve degrees east longitude, has occasioned skepticism, I now copy from my original note-book, which I have shown to Sir Roderick Murchison, the following details. I further understand from him that Crawfurd had no intention of disparaging the accuracy of my description, but simply wished to have such an explanation as I now offer.

These little people, the Obongo, may be considered the [...] of the [...]. They are of migratory habits, and change their temporary shelter under trees from one place to another. They gain their livelihood by trapping game, which they exchange with the settled villagers for food, and, like some European gipsies, if this method fails they steal and decamp. While the inhabitants of this mountain region are lighter in color than those of the seashore, these Obongo are still less dark. They have only short tufts of hair upon their heads, and are thus strikingly distinguished from the settled inhabitants, who wear large turrets of hair upon their heads. They have a wild, anxious and timorous expression in their eyes, and, although I gave many beads to entice some of them to remain, and was brought to them stealthily by the natives, all the men, except one adult, disappeared, leaving a few women behind. It would appear that my visit alarmed them; for, although I stayed a week in the adjacent village, the Obongo were no more to be heard of.

The following are the measurements I was enabled to make. The only adult male [...] and four feet six inches; but as one of the women [...] five feet one-quarter inch (she being [...] extraordinarily tall), I have no doubt that some of the men are equally tall, and some perhaps taller. The other women I measured had the following heights: four feet eight inches, four feet seven and one-quarter inches, four feet five inches, and the tallest four feet four and one-quarter inches. I thought, after looking at the whole group of the adult women, that their average height was from four feet five inches to four feet six inches. The smallest woman had the largest head, viz: one foot ten and one-fifth inches in circumference; the smallest was one foot nine inches round.

In the volume which I propose to publish, more details regarding this little people, with a short vocabulary of their language will be given. I am, sir, your obedient servant, P. B. DU CHAILLU

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES AMONG CATTLE.—The report of the State Commissioners on Contagious Diseases among Cattle states that they have responded to calls in ten different towns during the year, in three of which the contagious pleuro-pneumonia was found to exist. These places were Chelmsford, Dedham and Nahant, and the investigations by the Commissioners in each case were very thorough. They state that it is evident from their experiments that if a cow is attacked with the disease when having a large flow of milk, the secretion will be partially or wholly suspended, depending, of course, on the violence of the attack and the duration of the disease. They farther state that animals which have had the pleuro-pneumonia will fatten readily, although considerable lung tissue may have been lost. Since the appropriation by the Legislature of $20,000, in 1864, the Commissioners have expended the sum of $7,943 78, a considerable part of which has been for the experiments ordered by the Executive Department. Several towns have drawn sums for claims made previous to the appointment of the Commission, amounting to $1,906 36, leaving a balance of $70,140 80, which reverts to the treasury.—Boston Journal.

THE OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA—BENT, CARSON AND BRIDGER MERE BOYS.—From the Kansas City Journal of Commerce of February 4th we take the following

In this city there is perhaps the oldest inhabitant now living in America—Jose Ponno, a native of Lower Canada The following account of him is given by himself and by those who have known him for the last 40 years. He was a man at the time Canada was invaded by General Montgomery in 1775 but does not remember his age at that date, but he recollects that he was in the woods splitting rails when the news came of the advance of Montgomery upon Quebec At the close of the American Revolution he left Canada and settled in the then Louisiana Territory, west of the Mississippi, from which time he was almost continuously for some 50 years in the employment of various fur companies as a trapper in the mountain regions of the West During this time he was at the battle of New Orleans, under General Jackson and states that then (1815) he was very gray headed.

About 35 years ago he hired as a trapper to the late Major Dripps, a well known mountain trader, the father in law of William Mulkey, with whom the old man now resides His services for Major Dripps continued until some 17 years ago, since which time he has not attempted to hunt. The history of his long life in the mountains is replete with strange and startling incidents, of hairbreadth escapes from Indians and wild beasts, of starvation and suffering in the mountain snows, and other scenes peculiar to the life of a trapper He is nearly the last of the old stock of the trappers Bent, Carson and Bridger are but boys to him, and he will scarcely permit to them the appellation of "mountain men" For the last 15 years since he became too old to hunt, he has been kindly cared for by the daughter of Major Dripps and her husband, who have furnished him a comfortable house and have his meals regularly sent to him

The old man is in excellent health, and always cheerful and happy—never was sick a day in his life, attends church (Catholic) with great regularity, and takes much interest in all that is going on. His second childhood is happy and refreshingly innocent. Last summer he went with the family to see the cars running on the railroad, a sight he had never before witnessed, "After looking on wonderingly, he remarked, "I will tell God I have seen a railroad." From all the facts that can be adduced from those who have long known him and from his own recollection of events during his life, he cannot be less than one hundred and twenty years old.

Our own acquaintance with him extends back fifteen years, during which time he does not seem to have grown perceptibly older. We still see him every summer at work in his little flower and vegetable garden, and from his appearance no stranger would guess him to be within forty years of his actual age.

MURDERED BY INDIANS.—The Placerville Democrat of March 10th says:

Louis J. Hunter, one of the first settlers of Placerville, we regret to announce, was killed on the morning of the 17th of January last by a band of Apache Indians, near Fort Cummings, New Mexico. We have received from a friend the following facts with regard to his death: "The company of which he is a member, is stationed at Fort Cummings, New Mexico. Louis, with three other members were detailed to cut wood for the fort, some distance from it, and were eating their breakfast when they were attacked by 40 or 50 Apaches. The Indians stealthily crept near them, and before the brave boys discovered their presence or could seize their arms, the Indians fired upon and killed them The soldiers were apparently unconscious of danger, as they were all seated outside of their tents, without their arms. The bodies of the soldiers were fearfully mutilated, and entirely stripped of every article of clothing. It was an hour before the news of the massacre reached the fort; consequently the Indians got off with their plunder, which consisted of four overcoats and clothing, four Springfield muskets and a considerable quantity of ammunition. Louis belonged to Company G, 1st Veteran Infantry, California Volunteers.

BRUTAL ASSASSINATION.—The Nashville Times of February 4th gives an account of the assassination of an officer of the Freedmen's Bureau at Pontotoc, [...]:

A youth, who has just returned from Pontotoc, Mississippi, states that a few nights since the agent of the Freedmen's Bureau at that place was murdered in cold blood, while sleeping in his bed, by a party of rebels. His body was riddled with balls in the most shocking manner. The people of Pontotoc hated the Bureau intensely for interfering with them in exercising control over their slaves, and are heartily glad over the summary method in which its agent had been dismissed from service. We are informed that the people of Mississippi generally sympathize with them in their hatred of the Bureau and their oppression of freedom. They denounce the President in unmeasured terms for insisting upon the abolition of slavery, and speak of the Federal Government as a despotism, to which they must yield for the present, from necessity, and not from inclination. Union men are compelled to be as silent and cautious as they were in 1861, and look as if they were the subjugated party. The Secessionists treat them with contempt and speak of them on all occasions as "traitors to the South."

TRANSYLVANIAN WOMEN.—One beautiful, young girl, says a writer, whom I met coming up stairs from her bath, was sticking flowers in her hair as she ascended. She was dark as night, but lithe and lovely as a houri. At first I was much struck by the abundance of hair that here seemed to be the gift of nature to every woman, and which in massive braids were twined round her head. On nearer examination, however, I found that the ornament was false; the thick plaits were made of two skillfully prepared, and were often of lighter color than the hair itself. There was, I think, not a single woman, no matter how poor or old, without this artificial addition. A great number of women, even of the lowest grade, wear rouge. Later, in Transylvania, I found this custom to prevail among the Wallach peasantry. Close by a Russian (Wallach) village, Pecsonjeska, the women of which are far-famed for their beauty. In the season they come daily to Mediah with fruit, flowers, milk, and honey for the visitors; and, if report speaks truth, the younger generation of that village is a mixed race, with elements as manifold as the various nationalities that yearly visit Mediah.

REMARKABLE MARRIAGE NOTICE.—The Ritchie (West Virginia) Press contains the following singular wedding notice, adding some poetry, which we omit;

Married, on Tuesday, January 2d, at the Wilderness' Refuge, near Elenboro, by Rev. J. W. Bolton, at M. E. Church, (by whom it is said he ties those knots with most exquisite taste), General A S. Core, millionaire of this county, to Mrs. Cynthia A. Kerns, daughter of J. Mallory, of Fairmount, West Virginia.

"The native generosity of this prince of gentlemen warrants the conviction that having united his noble heart with the pathetic heart of a lady possessing the peculiar graceful and essential characteristics of the intelligent bride, when blended as they now are, cannot fail to be happy, make all around them happy, and force the world to say it was better by their having lived in it

PAPER STOCK AND WASTE TREASURY NOTES.—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says:

The Secretary of the Treasury contemplates having the waste notes and securities that are now destroyed by burning converted into pulp for paper stock. The quantity destroyed in the last fiscal year was about thirty tons, and in the present year it is estimated that this sort of waste paper will amount to as much as forty tons. It has been suggested that of that stock, which would have to be reduced to pulp in the Treasury, paper and envelopes could be manufactured for Government use The value of envelopes now required in the Department is about $10,000 a year

LET HIM DOWN EASY.—The manner in which our military heroes are let down to their original level, on their return home, is sometimes more amusing to the lookers on than flattering to the subject. A case in point: General Sam H. went out in a regiment from the Badger State as Captain Before he left the rendezvous he was promoted to Colonel, and for gallant conduct in the field was brevetted Brigadier General On his retirement to civil life he told a friend "they let him down easy." At Washington it was General H, at Madison, Colonel H, at the town where he organized his company it was, "How are you, Captain?" and when he got up to S, where he resides every boy with a freckled nose was shouting "Hallo, Sam."

WATER WHEELS.

POWER PLEDGED EQUAL TO THE
Best Overshot Wheel in Existence.

Prices Greatly Reduced! Prices Greatly Reduced!

American Double Turbine Water Wheel

IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately We have a small supply of the different sizes from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way; Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

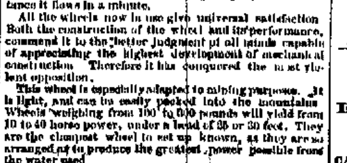

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction Both the construction of the wheel and its performance, commend it to the better judgment of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction. Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition.

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains Wheels weighing from 100 to 600 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power, under a head of 35 or 30 feet. They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is reliable, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
